TOTAL RECALL

The 1990/91 school year will be an immortal and unforgettable year for many MHS students! It was a year full of diverse changes that have made Manchester an even greater learning experience. This year saw the first full year of the environmental club. With its introduction, various other clubs, classes, and organizations joined together to show support for society's growing concerns about the environment. Another first for this school year was a school-wide cooling system. No longer did MHS students have to struggle with unbearable heat, but they could max and relax in the comfort of an air condition. Yet all the things that made this year unique were not so pleasant.

For beyond the walls of Manchester and across the great Atlantic, many of our relatives were involved in the Persian Gulf Conflict. As Saddam Hussein violently rampaged the small country of Kuwait, American justice and military might intervened to liberate the victimized country. As the conflict came to a close, we all gave sighs of relief and began to deal with our own problems back home.

One of the major problems that consumed our own communities was the nation-wide budget shortage. This lack of money hit Chesterfield County expecially hard as we were forced to go a very short time without subs and were unable to get some specialized equipment during the year. Fortunately, with diligent administrators on hand we were able to restore things to order. For even with these small setbacks the Lancers came out on top as usual. Surpassing all obstacles and taking advantage of every opportunity makes for a year that the Lancers can be very proud of. As you flip through the pages of this Memoir every picture and every phrase will provide a TOTAL RECALL of one of the most memorable year's in MHS history.

LANCER LIFE

Wait! Before you open this page and try to remember! Have you forgotten already? Do you remember when we stayed up until three o'clock in the morning to finish that English paper? Or the time when we crammed so much for final exams that we fell asleep the next day during it? Do you remember all those football games when the parents sat on the bleachers and we socialized near the gates? Do you remember all those times when we went out to eat a second lunch after school? How about the first day when Manchester seemed huge? Remember our last year? Our last day? The happiest and saddest day of our lives . . .

Lancer Spirit

From the first day of school in September to the last day in June, Lancers' dedication and commitment brought success in academics, athletics and club activities. Spirit was high at the student body pep rallies as cheerleaders' enthusiasm led us to cheer Lancer teams to victory. Homecoming class floats developed teamwork and dedication through competition. Remember the excitement at Awards Day when achievers were recognized for hard work, dedication and leadership? And now as you turn these pages of Memoir '91, you will quickly recall what Lancer spirit is all about!

Playing Around

Once again, Manchester's Drama Club has performed two exceptional plays. Earlier this fall, Mr. Goss led the group through many long hours of practice. Everyone's efforts paid off, and the school's first play of the year, Black Comedy, was a huge success. The second play, Don Quixote, was performed during the spring. Given plenty of time to collect their energy and memorize new lines, Manchester's students pulled together to make the production work. Both plays were extremely funny and quite entertaining. Many thanks to those who spent their hours working to make both plays a success and an enjoyment to the student body.

History Rocks

The Social Studies Department once again sponsored the annual 50's-60's Soc Hop. Thanks to the dedication of our teachers, the cafeteria was turned into a dance hall to occupy the many students who arrived. Poodle skirts, scarves, tie-die prints, and other 50's- 60's attire could be seen everywhere. Not only did the students have a chance to show their spirit by dressing up, but they could also show their "hip" moves on the dance floor as well. Many popular songs were played by some of the well known artists, such as the Beach Boys, Buddy Holly, the Supremes, and even Elvis. Everyone who came seemed to have a groovin' time.

A Hard Battle

The Homecoming Game against Colonial Heights was a long and tough battle. The resulting score was Manchester 0 and Colonial Heights 10.

Before the game, the annual parade of floats started the night off with a bang. The winning Junior float, with the theme "As Time Goes By" displayed four decades of history.

Another tradition, the crowning of the king and queen, was filled with great anticipation and excitement. Yuri Barns and Tracey Spivey were crowned Homecoming King and Queen of Manchester.

The Manchester Lancers put up a tough fight and it was an exciting night for all!

Dance till Dawn

The greatly awaited night of the Homecoming dance was a great success. For this year's theme, "As Time Goes By," couples danced and romanced to music played by Jimmy Oliver — DJ extraordinare. Manchester High students were surrounded by pulsating music, bubbles, fake smoke, flashing lights, and, of course, balloons and streamers. To cool down, couples stepped into the courtyard, also fully decorated with lights. The girls looked stunning wearing everything from black velvet to pink chiffon. As for the guys, silk suits and polka-dot ties were a hit! To remember the night as perfect as a picture, photographs were taken in the auditorium. It was truly a night to remember!

JUNIORS Win!?!

On the blustery cold night of the Powder Puff game, the Seniors expected to dominate over the Juniors to keep their record of three years straight. The Juniors struck first blood as Gayle Gray scored the first touchdown. The star players of the Juniors, Gayle Gray and Kim Peerman, led the rest of their team to victory.

The Seniors scored no points until a touchdown was made in the fourth quarter. Overtime crossed the team's minds. The team with the most yardage will win. The Juniors scored a touchdown and gained fifty yards with a run by Kim Peerman during overtime. The Juniors won the game by yardage, the winning Junior team, coached by Ms. Chaconas and Mrs. Young, were overjoyed with their first victory since 1986. Way to go Juniors!

After school activities

The school day does not end at the 1:50 bell for some Manchester students involved in extracurricular activities. Everything from sports practice to part-time jobs goes on for many hours. Weight lifting for football players is mandatory to keep them in shape. To earn a little extra cash, many students take interest in getting part-time jobs. Some common places of occupation are McDonald's, Arby's and Pizza Hut. Lancer dancer and cheerleading practices are held to learn all the new moves. Foreign language clubs meet after school to discuss special activities. All this would not be possible if it were not for the dedication of our sponsors and custodians who stay late in the afternoon to help us and then return early in the mornings for the next school day!

The Senior/Faculty Basketball Game

The Senior/Faculty basketball game enjoyed a great turnout. The competition was heated as usual with outstanding performances from Yuri Barnes for the Seniors and Coach Sours for the Faculty. The game stayed close as both teams fought hard, but Senior power would prevail!

Moonlight in Roses

Once again, as the night of April 27 approached many Lancers were busy preparing for the 1991 Junior/Senior Prom to be held at the Radisson Hotel. There were dresses and tuxes to be searched for, and the Juniors had a lot of hard work to do. As is customary, the Juniors, class of 1992, gave the Prom for the graduating Seniors. To do this, many fundraising events were required to pay for the expensive evening. Not only did they have to raise money, but many hours were devoted for the preparation of the Prom. Among this included the many beautiful decorations. Balloons and roses were everywhere, and there was even an ice sculpture that looked like a basket full of roses. This went along with the theme of the Prom, "Moonlight in Roses". Later on during the night came the traditional crowning of the King and Queen. Many cheers came from the crowd as Mr. Jones placed the crown on Steven Ambler to announce that he was the new king. The suspense of who would be queen also climaxed with cheering and clapping as Susan Bennett was crowned the new queen. Later followed the traditional Prom Figure. The Senior class formed the "M" and " '91" to symbolize their graduating year and accompanied it with a heart. As the night drew to a close many happy couples could be seen. It seemed as if everyone had a really good time and as Crystal Haynes says, it was "Simply Mahvelous Dahling!"

After-Prom- Party

Once again, Manchester sponsored an After-Prom-Party which turned out to be a night full of fun for all who attended. The party was held at the Cloverleaf Mall Cinema 8, and students could arrive any time between 12:00 and 5:00 A.M. Many people showed up to try their luck at the casino games and to hang out with their friends. There was also free food and drinks and Q-94 supplied music for those who wanted to dance. Prom-goers were also given the chance to buy raffle tickets. Among the many prizes were a radio, a microwave, a boogie-board, and a small refrigerator. As it grew time for the party end, students were sad to leave, but had many happy memories of the time they spent together.

Senior Assembly

Wearing the traditional black and white, seniors entered the gym single file during the senior assembly. The entire class sat in folding chairs on the gym floor, so that they could all be seen and given recognition. The morning was spent honoring and recognizing many seniors. Many awards and scholarships were handed out. Among the hard working achievers were Lilith Brown, Blair Woosley, and Devin Reed. Though it was very hard work at times, most seniors would agree that all their efforts had finally paid off. The scholarships varied from academic to athletic, and those that paid for room and board only to "full rides". Not only did outstanding Seniors receive gifts but the administration also received gifts for their endeavors during the school year. Dr. Olson received a super-sized water gun for his valiant battle against this very same contraband during the school year. Dr. Jones received some sunglasses so that he could max and relax in the sun during the summer, while Mrs. League received some clothing apparel to add to her already outstanding wardrobe! As one can see, everyone was a winner at the 1990/91 SENIOR ASSEMBLY!

Breakfast

While checking off the list of senior events, the soon-to-be graduates attend the Senior Breakfast and the Senior Banquet. The Senior Breakfast was held in the cafeteria at Manchester. Delicious food, such as donuts and pastries, were provided. Many seniors gathered to have a good time talking with their friends. The administration even gave roses to all the females. The Senior Banquet also provided the seniors with another chance to get together and talk. The room was filled with laughter as David Anderl walked in impersonating Mr. Cox. Many famous practices of Mr. Cox, such as quiz questions, also kept the seniors laughing. The seniors broke into hysterics as David said the all-famous bonus question, "The Titanic went down with over 2,300 people. Name them." Entertainment also included a special musical treat as Mr. Gary played the harmonica. As the seniors left, all could truthfully say that they really had a great time.

Graduation

As the school year finally draws to a close, the seniors have many events to attend; but the two most important events are the baccalaureate and graduation. Baccalaureate was held, as usual, on the Sunday before graduation. The seniors assembled at Bethany Place Baptist Church on June 9 at 2:00 P.M. The ceremony included a magnificent speech given by Mr. Goss and music by the Madrigals. As the seniors were filing out of the church, many statements could be heard about how nice the afternoon had been. Now with baccalaureate over, the seniors looked forward to the culmination of their high school careers, graduation. The seniors assembled together for the last time at graduation which was held at the Arthur Ashe center at 1:30 P.M. Broad smiles could be seen from families as the procession of faculty, speakers, and graduates began. Among the speakers were Valedictorian Angela Brown and Mr. Cox. Words of encouragement along with sound advice on making a difference were given. After Mr. Gunter finished calling all of the graduates names, loud cheers could be heard from relatives, friends, and the new graduates. Soon caps were flying, and hugs and tears were everywhere. Good Luck to Manchester's newest alumni as you venture out to take on the world.

Academics

Academic success is the goal of many students at Manchester, and here they have many opportunities. Manchester has a long history of the perfect combinations of good teachers, students, and classes. Students can take many advanced placement (AP) classes at Manchester, and others are offered at nearby schools. They challenge the students with college level requirements. The top eight juniors in the class have the privilege of becoming a junior Marshall. They help with the graduation ceremonies. Our four representativs of "Battle of the Brains" practiced hard for their televised competition. Other students can participate in Academic Trivia, where they compete against other teams from this school. Seniors who meet the requirements can be exempt from exams, a goal many seniors work hard for. Seminars are offered to students taking Honors level foreign languages to increase their knowledge of international cultures and customs.

Field trips are offered throughout the year to explore topics further. Seniors and juniors taking government take a trip to Washington. Fashion merchandising students take a trip to New York. Sophomores are invited to visit the Chesterfield Technical Center to learn more about their career-oriented programs. Chorus and band take several trips to perform throughout the state.

Students are working towards the day of their graduation. Their achievements are recognized during the Spring SCA Assembly. Academics are getting the students ready for either college or the "real world." All it takes for academic achievement is the ability to have TOTAL RECALL!

Terrific Teachers

The teachers in this school work hard
To make our futures bright.
They're interesting and dynamic
And make us reach great heights.
Though sometimes the tests are hard,
And the homework seems so long,
We know it's all worthwhile
Even when we get an answer wrong.
These teachers are preparing us for the future
That seems so far away.
They teach us to think and work
Though we would rather play.
I'd like to take this time
to say
Thank you to each and every one,
Who dedicate their lives
to learning
And make it so much fun.

Math Excellence

The Math Department at Manchester continued in its tradition of high achievement under the new direction of Mr. Ron Gunter, Chairman of the Department. Twelve teachers combined their efforts in and beyond the classroom so that students would have the knowledge to succeed. Classes in everything from Algebra and Computer Math to rigorous Calculus were partaken in by the student body. During various Tuesdays throughout the year, the department administers the challenging Virginia Math League contests to students, who try diligently to correctly answer five questions. In February the Math Department sponsored the American High School Math Exam. This department is truly a factor in Manchester's excellence.

Science Stars

Science has had a wonderful year with the help of the Science Club led by Ms. Whitlow. In the fall the Science Club members traveled to Washington, D.C., to see the National Zoo, and in the spring they went to Baltimore to see the National Aquarium. The Science Club also put together Science and Technology Week where speakers from scientific careers came to science classes and spoke about their jobs. The Ecology Club, led by Ms. Reveles, was also busy. They went to the General Assembly to lobby for a plastic recycling center. They also made the white paper collection campaign a success. More happens in science in Manchester than just science classes.

Literary Genius

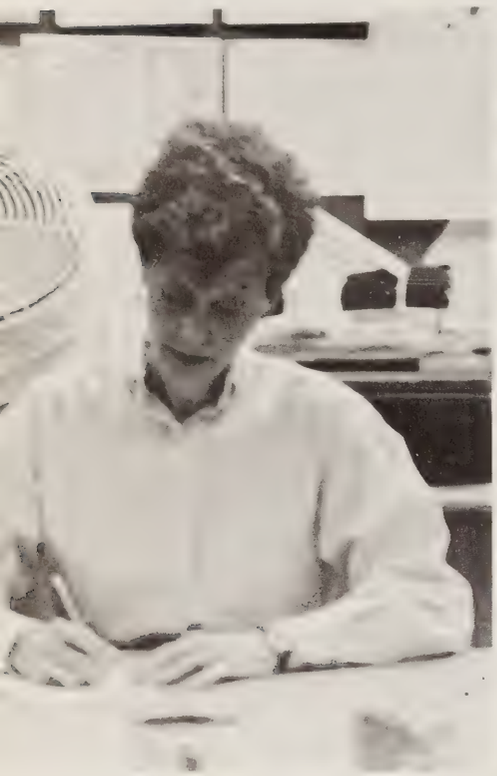
"To be or not to be. . ." is often heard in Senior English classrooms as spring approaches the Round Building which houses Manchester's English Department. Along with Hamlet, voices reciting Romeo and Juliet, Julius Caesar, and Macbeth resound throughout the halls. As every student knows, the focus is also on vocabulary skills and writing, whether in the form of papers or class responses. Most classes also involve making a presentation to improve speaking skills. If you see a student reading one of the "classics," he or she is most likely preparing for an English term paper.

John Foster is caught reading a book, a common activity of students.

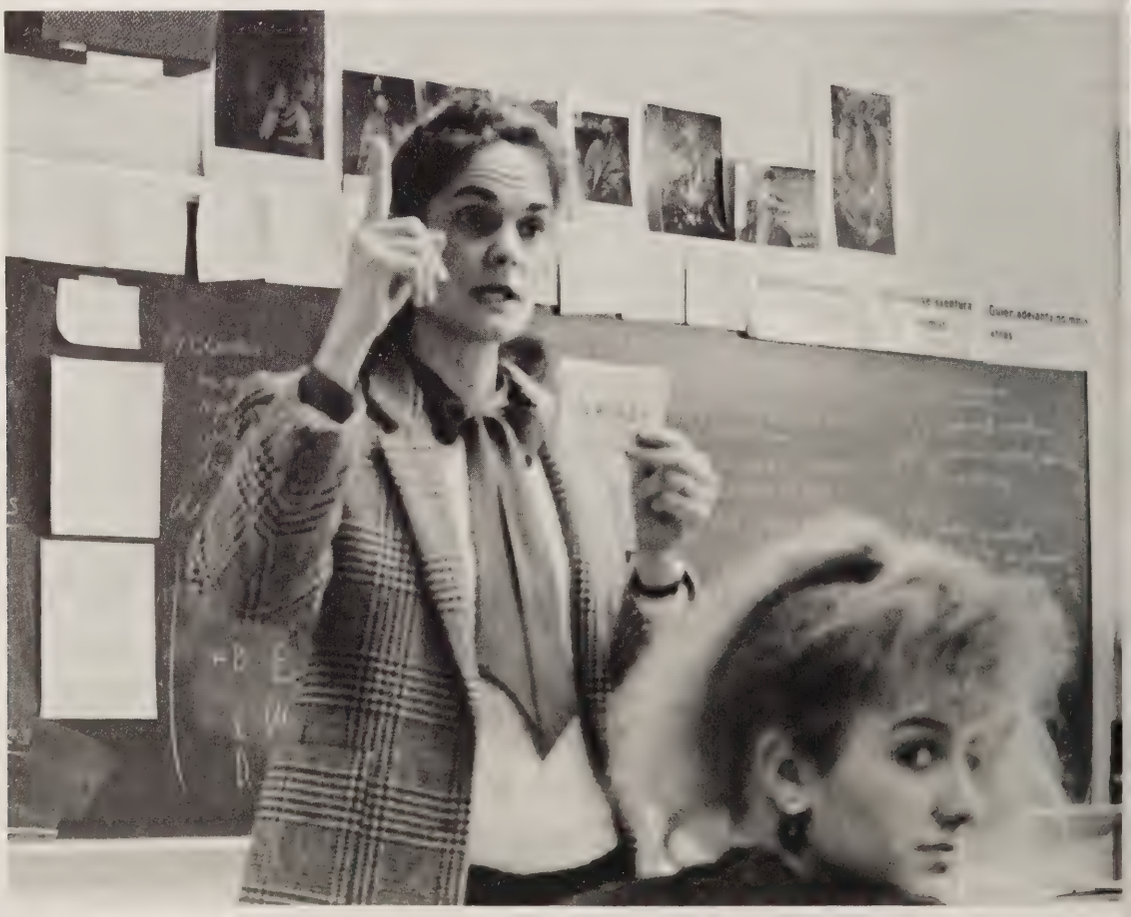
Heading the program, which involves 15 teachers including one reading teacher, is Mrs. Gwen Wamsley. Each of these instructors has four classes, then one period for planning and one for evaluation. Most of them are involved in other activities such as S.A.D.D., Yearbook, and Debate.

Students are always alert for language class.

Mrs. Shumate plans for her classes after school in the workroom.



Mrs. Hoy actively makes another point to enliven Spanish class.



Foreign Influences

Manchester's diverse Foreign Language Department has been recognized throughout the county for its brilliance of achievement. Students have an opportunity to study Spanish, German, Latin, French, or Russian under nine dedicated and enthuisastic instructors. For those students who desire a taste of the Orient, Japanese is offered at Monacan High School.

Creativity is the earmark of Manchester's foreign language program, as teachers must integrate listening, speaking, and reading as well as composition into their curriculum. Oftentimes imaginative dialogues may be heard in the halls outside classrooms. A day may also be spent trying new foods to supplement a unit on foods from different cultures. Hitting the books, students learn anything from ancient mythology and the Incan civilization to modern day cities.

Those who want more can participate actively in the annual Foreign Language Week, which includes making posters, wearing buttons, and encouraging language study. Seminars are offered after school for the honors classes, and Manchester also helps students apply to the various Governor's Academies for languages. The department greatly contributes to academic success at Manchester.

MHS — History in the Making

Social studies has had a very exciting year at Manchester. Government classes visited the General Assembly to see state government in action. Shadow General Assembly delegates, Jennifer Treibly, Deanna Taylor, Nilou Tammadon, Kalpana Shenoy, and Amy Marsh received an even more in-depth look at the government by being able to spend a day following a General Assembly delegate around. Manchester's own Kirk Cox is a delegate in his second term at the General Assembly. The Model United Nations gave Manchester students a chance to look at international politics. The History Club, led by Ms. Vipperman, also made social studies exciting by sponsoring a fifties/sixties sock hop. The Social Studies Department at Manchester is incredibly active.

Time

As September came to a close, the students of Manchester High School once again began preparations for Homecoming festivities. While some prepared for the annual float competition, others were involved in practice for the game, or the planning of the dance, itself. The highlight of the game, though, was the announcement that the Senior Class had chosen Yuri Barnes and Tracey Spivey to reign as king and queen. At the dance, students rocked to the music of D.J. Jimmy Oliver, Extraordinaire, and were awed at the transformation of the cafeteria. However, the theme "As Time Goes By" best summed up the feelings of nostalgia that Manchester students hold for their school.

Taking Over

In another break from normality at Manchester, several students participated in the much anticipated Senior Leadership Day. While Lilith Brown paraded as Mr. Jones, others represented teachers from around the school. For example, Jenny Parker, clad in the infamous Bucs, personified the one and only Mr. Storino by forging through Hamlet for a day. Other students were given an opportunity to explore leadership by attending Model U.N. and Model General Assembly. As Manchester represented Norway at Model U.N., eight students were given the chance to participate in this event. While working to get their own bills passed at Model General Assembly, they also worked on committees, and legislated amendments. Overall, the students of Manchester have proven themselves as leaders of the future.

Matt Sulanke and Chris Huskins (alias Mrs. Shumate) are conducting Spanish Class with a spatula.

Brent Christiansen and Micah Dalton receive their "Best Delegation" award at Model U.N.

Rip Roaring

Flappers, knickerbockers, and Tin Lizzies all personified the atmosphere of Manchester on 1920's Dress-up Day. As numerous history students typified this era, the halls were reminiscent of a past time. This day also represented the first break for AP History students who have been diligently preparing for the AP Exam. In fact, the rip-roaring era of the 1920's perfectly suited the rebellious attitude of those enduring AP History. Mrs. Easton, herself, slipped onto the role of flapper for a day, and looked quite the part in her dropped-waist, silky dress. As a result of the efforts of both students and teachers, the personality of a bygone era was once again rejuvenated.

Mrs. Easton's AP History students flash their flapper smiles. Micah "John Gotti" Dalton looks particularly stunning in a dashing mafia costume.

These girls are sporting the "flapper slouch" — 20's style.

THE FINAL FIVE

The Senior Class officers have worked behind the scenes in order to provide our Seniors with lasting memories. They have shown not only a dedication to their class, but also to their society. Their dedication was evident through their involvement in the Adopt-A-Family Program during both Thanksgiving and Christmas. This program, which was very successful, included a food and clothes drive for less fortunate families.

The officers also played a tremendous part in organizing activities such as the annual Powderpuff game and the Senior Banquet. They not only planned many activities for the Senior Class, but they also helped to promote and raise money for these events.

The Senior Class officers of the 1990-1991 year have established their place in the history of Manchester High School. They have brought many creative ideas, and in addition, they have made a Senior Class video of the year. As a result of their efforts, the Senior Class officers have made a priceless contribution to the Class of '91.

Senior Supper

The Senior Banquet was held at Sheraton Park South with all the food, music, and friends one could stand. The evening began at 6:30 with baked turkey, string beans, and rice for dinner. Entertainment was provided throughout the meal by Colter Lewis, Derek Brooks, and Chris Colvin. The trio brought tears to many eyes with the fantastically performed song "More Than Words."

In order to dry everyone up, the senior video, spotlighting basketball and pep rallies, was shown. Derek and Colter continued with their beautiful ballads until the senior superlative readings. While there were not a whole lot of surprises, everyone seemed genuinely interested in the winners. The evening drew to a close with the distribution of the Last Wills and Testaments. Parties continued later into that night, but all who were present will keep fond memories of their last night with their graduating peers.

Seniors laugh through dinner and entertainment.

Cindy Renee Zimmer

The Seniors enjoyed a fabulous time at the annual Senior banquet. They came dawned in the latest in fashionable evening wear. Laughing and celebration could be heard as the Seniors ate their last formal meal together.

Finally, after thirteen years of counting down, June 12th, 1991, arrived. Amidst a barrage of caps and gowns, fellow seniors looked on as their classmates received their diplomas. Appropriately, Mr. Cox gave a rousing speech in which he encouraged all to strive for bigger and better things. As the Class of 1991 has proven so many times before, it is well capable of fulfilling such a task. While each day spent at Manchester reflects its own unique quality, graduation day undoubtedly stands above the rest! For those who have gone before, and for those who will follow, the graduating Class of 1991 has left its mark.

JUNIORS IN CHARGE

The Junior Class officers began preparations for Prom 1991 as soon as they took office. President Stephanie Goode, Vice-President Kara Arceneaux, Treasurer Suzie Lowman, and Secretary Cindy Zier headed up not only Prom and Homecoming, but also the ring ceremony. The spirited officer took charge of one of the most important years in high school. Thank You, Officers, for a wonderful year!!!

DANIEL STAYS AFLOAT

Daniel Geiszler is an example of the talent that makes Manchester students proud. He is a swimmer for Poseidon, which takes up most of his time; yet, he still manages to fit in a summer job as a lifeguard at Surreywood Pool. In addition, Daniel is a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the prestigious Battle of the Brains team, and part of Manchester's delegation to the Model United Nations. Daniel is known for his intelligence, tenacity, and great sense of humor. WE WISH YOU THE BEST, DANIEL!

BETH . . .
SHE's SO CUTE

They call her "cute" and "outgoing, friendly, ambitious and understanding." Who could this wonderful person be? Beth Lindsey, perhaps? Well, you're right! Beth, a junior, is a well-rounded student who, as historian for the S.C.A. helps shape student policy. Lindsey also is known for her singing talents in Capital Swing and All-Regional Chorus. This musical talent carries into her church, where she is involved in the Adult Choir and the Bell Choir. In addition, her abilities in Latin have taken her far. She has participated in Latin Club, the Latin Convention, and the Governor's Academy for Latin. This National Honor Society member will go a long way . . . GOOD LUCK, BETH!!!

Junior Ring Day — hands on experience.

TWISTIN'

September 20, 1990, was a day of twists and turns for the Junior Class as they celebrated Ring Day 1990. After the Herff-Jones representatives spoke about the tradition of class rings, student officers received their rings and began to hand out rings to all of the juniors who purchased them.

COUPLES

Short, tall, skinny, something about them attracts one to the other. As strange as it is for friends to comprehend, these couples are inseparable. Maybe it is because one is tall and one is short, or because one is outgoing and the other is reserved. The difference in appearance and personality never ceases to exist. All they seem to know is a special feeling for their partner.

It takes heart power, not brain power.

As Time Goes By — Homecoming 1990!!

Deanna Hite, Crystal Haynes, Nicole Boone, Kristin Rudd, Sonia Sobrito, and Holly Kempf all participated in the stunning sophomore homecoming float.

Homecoming Princess Nicole Kimbrough and Prince Ben Frank ride for the festivities.

Carley Lovell and Joel Wheeler make a perfect entry in the homecoming parade.

Sophomore Slang

From simply gnarly and gag me with a pitchfork to way très cool and I'm gonna have a cow, the trend setters not only set the fads and fashions of clothes, but they've also developed a language of their own. Whether they were taken from Saturday Night Live an excellent movie, or just plain made up, these words have caught on fast. There's just no foolin'!

Suggestions from these sophomore linguists would be:

If you scope a real scud, then don't have a mooie or get your nightie in a knot. Just tell yourself — "Not gonna do it; wouldn't be prudent at this juncture." be sure you do hand jestures with this. All you have to say is "Homeydon't play that" and "go play with your freshman friends!"

STOP — "Hammer Time!"

One, two, three — everybody hammer! Flippin! It blitzed me all at once. Get off my brain waves! Coolness! Dudes, if you're a gorgeous fox on wheels and you come across some chicky baby — well let's just say you wanna vogue — even if you're stokin' she'll still say "I don't think so!" That'd be too funny! Ha Ha! (You set yourself up for that one!) Sweet!

Eh, gotta bail. So kiddies, try not to be too doofy or you'll end up being the cheeziest twinkie around. (And we all know that twinkies aren't cheesy, mon!) Could it be a tree or a mini-mart? You know it baby. NOT! You're stylin'!

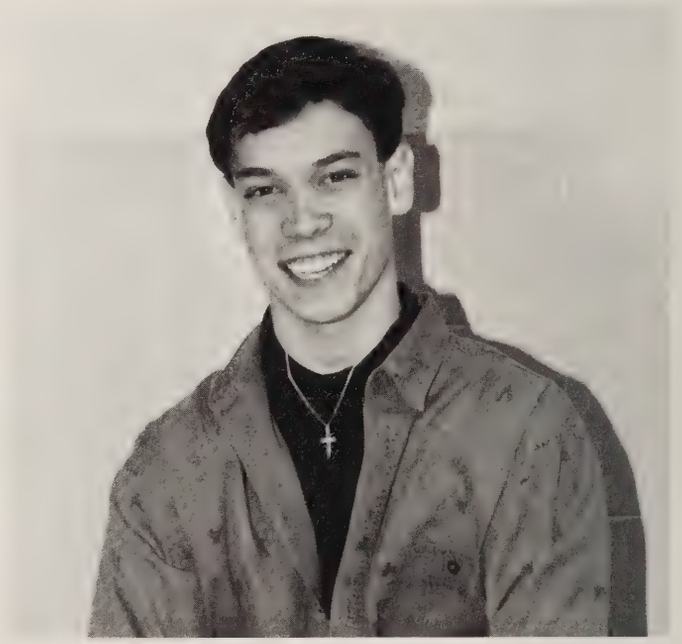
Sensational Sophomores!!

Stephanie Neubert prepares for the next Manchester game with spirit and a smile.

If anyone in the sophomore class has spirit, it has to be Stephanie Neubert. From her beginning as a pig-tailed, Chalkley cheerleader, she is now co-captain of the Junior Varsity cheering squad. Stephanie is a lively, energetic person who also enjoys singing in the Girl's Show Choir and playing the piano. Even with all her extra extracurricular activities, Stephanie always has time for her schoolwork and her commitments to teaching dance. Last semester she managed to stay on the honor roll with all honors classes. The studious Stephanie says, "I love going to Manchester . . . it has a high reputation."



Yes, you too can have this beautiful Ted Ford smile for only $9.99!

Ted Ford is a very familiar face in the sophomore class and on the Manchester stage. He has been in the plays Death of a Salesman, The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail, and Black Comedy. Although Ted played the lead role of Brimsley in Black Comedy, he points out that acting is not his only strength, for he is now involved in Madrigals and Capital Swing. Ted also contributes a great amount of his time towards community efforts by being a part of the For Kid's Sake program in cooperation with WTVR Channel 6. Outside of school, Ted also spends a lot of time involved with the Young Life Organization, a local religious organization for youth.

Sophomores Working for the Future!

Who are the hardest working members of the sophomore class? They would have to be the sophomore class officers. The officers include: Nicole Boone, president; Nicole Kimbrough, vice-president; Carley Lovell, secretary; and Holly Kempf as treasurer. The many hours after school spent doing hard work has produced a wonderful year that is not yet over. The officers, along with their other duties, organize class activities and coordinate the fund raisers. Their spirit and dedication set a great example for the rest of the class, but class support and cooperation are always needed. Together with these leaders and the class of '93, Manchester's students can look forward to a bright future.

Those Spirited Sophomores . . .

What is school spirit? Is it that manic drive that persuades people to paint their faces orange and blue? Is it that irresistible urge to stand up and cheer at basketball games? Or is it something more simple? It is pride and participation in our school's activities and events. It is the simple loyalty that comes from loving a place and being proud to be counted among its numbers. The real question is if that special quality can be found at Manchester? The answer is a definite yes.

There is a special feeling around Manchester that has lasted for generations of students and parents. There is a unity and an oppenness about the school that makes Manchester unique and different. In 1992, the new Manchester High School will open, and the class of '93 will likely be the first graduating class to step out of its doors. When that time comes, today's sophomore class will have the spirit and drive it needs to be successful. Those energies have started now with increased participation and support in fundraisers and class activities.

Sophomores in the Summer

Here is one sophomore who has made a horrible realization:

Yo! Dudes and Dudettes! What's happenin'? How's the surf? What do you mean — what surf? I'm talking waves, man! You know — the surfin' kind! No, I'm not crazy. I'm goin' surfin'! Why? Man, you truly are making one bodacious mistake. Why else would I go surfin' — it's August! What do you mean — September? Are you telling me it's not summer anymore??????

Yes, campers, I hate to break the bad news to you but summer is unfortunately over. Those beautiful, carefree days when it was 108 degrees in the shade are sadly done. Gone also are the lovely sun-drenched beaches that left you with third degree burns over the 90% of your body that was not covered by the swimsuit. Those glorious free hours and hours of time that left you industrial strength bored over the summer are now occupied with band practice and Algebra homework. But the one thing from summer that you can take with you are the memories. The memories of people and places that you can never forget will remain fresh in your mind even as the weather cools and the leaves start to fade. The beauty and freedom of summer are never lost on the pages of a scrapbook, and their stories can be recounted for years to come. It is hard with a few photos and words to reproduce exactly the spirit and companionship that are a part of the long summer days, but it awakens the memories in all of us.

So whether your summer was spent marching endlessly at band camp, sunning beside a shimmering swimming pool, or toiling over the soda machine at McDonald's, it is certain that those few precious moments of freedom will be treasured in your memories forever (or at least until next June!).

Many sophomores enjoyed the ropes course at Young Life's Camp Saranac.

What's so great about it?

Sophomores from all walks of life at Manchester High School answered this very deep, thought-provoking question in every way imaginable. All of the answers were very entertaining and very original. Here's a sampling:

The best thing about being a sophomore:

- - Not being a freshman!
— Finding better places to hang out than the mall!
— Learning when to make excuses and when to look blank!
— Being closer and closer still to driving my car! (Heh, heh, heh!)
— Threatening freshmen with my field hockey stick!
— No more gym!
— Only 2 months, 6 days, 11 hours, and 30 minutes until I get my learner's permit!
— Nothing.
— Getting to know Orv Owens
— Discovering the magic and wonders of driving a stick-shift car! (Clutch! Clutch!)
— Going out with juniors!
— Class ring orders! (Are we anticipating or what?)
— Uncovering the miracles of team handball play!
— Finding people that are actually shorter than I am in the halls!
— No longer getting lost at every turn in this school.
— Remembering the fact that I only have two more years in high school!

From these earth-shattering facts and fascinating opinions, it is quite easy to see that the sophomores at Manchester High School are indeed a group of very creative, individual people.

What is a Sophomore?

What exactly is a sophomore? Webster's dictionary defines a sophomore as a "know-it-all whose thinking is really immature or foolish." The second definition is a student in the second year of high school. The true question is which of these definitions is correct, or if they are both correct! The only answer for certain is that Webster's does not have a firm grasp on exactly what a sophomore is. Most sophomores, in fact, are in the second year of high school. It is an odd place for a person to be, sort of in the lower, middle percentage range. The sophomore is not only in a strange place but in a strange position. He suddenly finds himself older than a few people, but still too much younger than the rest. In the chain of command about a school, the sophomore does not stand very high. He is an "upper-lower classman", which is a difficult category indeed. However, even if it is sometimes hard for a sophomore to find where he belongs, he always has a good time getting there. This is because sophomores have the most fun. College is still reasonably far in the future, while the memories of freshman year are quite dim. The sophomore usually gets the most thrills (well, this year anyway). What in your high school years can compare to the feeling of barreling down the road during your first time behind the wheel? This is most certainly a sophomore privilege. Those words are the catch-phrase of the second year of high school — simply sophomore! What term better describes something that cannot be described — a sophomore! So what exactly is a sophomore? Simply a sophomore!

1990-91 Class Officers

Jennifer Malone speeds down the basketball court as the Lancers put up a valiant fight against the Colonials.l

Through a vigorous campaign, our new class officers emerged. The close race ended with Raelan Roscher as president, Cara Stieler as vice president, Michael Kensky as treasurer, and Sara Shannonhouse as secretary. Notwithstanding the cancellation of a carwash due to adverse weather, the Freshmen Class organized other fundraisers. They sponsored a lucrative blow pop sale during winter exams and participated in the S.C.A. candy sale. All of the money raised will go towards future events, especially Prom. The 1990-91 Freshmen Class Officers have done an outstanding job this year; thanks to their dedication, we can look forward to great years ahead at MHS.

Cramming for Exams

For the first time freshmen turned to face a horrible enemy, semester exams, knowing that their exams counted as twenty percent of their semester grade this caused even more stress and anxiety. Boggled minds made decisions difficult and by the third day of exams chosing between A, B, C, or D was impossible. Clammy hands, uncombed hair, and broken pencils without erasers were all symptoms of exam anxiety, but then again, freshmen might have something to look forward to. Exempt seniors, Shelly Davenport and Jennifer Treibley approached many nervous freshmen prior to exams with a smile asking, "Would you like to go ice-skating with us on Friday? Oh, that's right, you're an underclassman. You have to take exams!"

Tracey and Melissa help each other during class.

Double or NOTHING

Gemini, the third sign of the Zodiac, is symbolized by the twins. Likewise, there are seveal sets of twins in the freshmen class, Melissa and Tracey Barrios, Brad and Eric Bensen, Danny and David Bishop, Bridget and Heather Costello, and Allison and Anna Smith to name a few. Although they "fight like crazy," Tracey and Melissa agree that they are each other's best friend. Even with drawbacks such as never being alone and stiff competition, neither would leave his twin.

SPOTLIGHT'S ON

Eric Krausse began his acting career in 1985 when he started modeling. Since then he has had several parts in school plays, including the title role in Providence Middle School's play last year, The Music Man. Eric has also been attending open auditions. He went for a screen test in Charlottesville and was cast with a small speaking role in the movie Toy Soldiers. This was a big step in Eric's acting career and it enabled him to gain valuable experience and meet many people. Words of wisdom from Eric Krausse are simple, "Try your best at everything you try, and put your heart into everything you do."

Biology and Jammin'?

How do biology and the Lancer Dancers go together? They are both connected with Mrs. Carol Bass. This extraordinary teacher is one of Manchester's most spirited supporters. She gets involved with her students, and she teaches in an entertaining way. Aside from her normal activities in the Science Department, she coaches the Lancer Dancers during their after school practices, and then she also goes to the football or basketball games where the group is performing. Her sunny nature and support motivates everyone around her. Mrs. Bass is truly an amazing, energetic Lancer.

How do students describe Mrs. Bass?

"A very unusual teacher."

"Spontaneous."

"She goes with the flow."

Teachers Most Embarrasing Moments

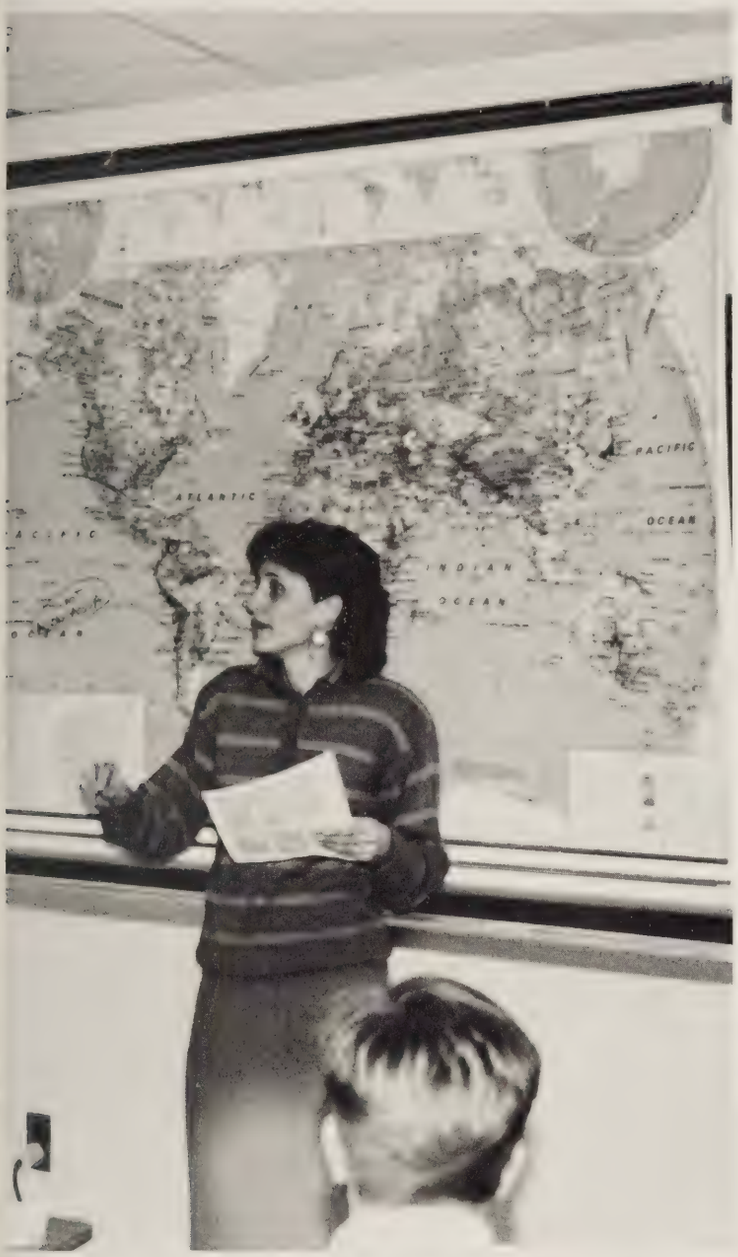
"I NEVER allow my students to pop gum in my classes. Then one day I blew a bubble and my students made me spit it out." T. Wilbourne

"One day when we were supposed to get out at 11:50 a.m. I did not let my students out until 12:00. They all missed the bus and had to find rides home." K. Wilborn

"One day while I was teaching class, a student was swinging her foot with a high heel on it. I took her shoe and tried to put it on. Since I could not wear just one shoe I took the other and put it on, too. While I was tottering around on the shoes one of the assistant principals walked in to ask me a question. Funny thing was, there I stood in a student's high heel shoes and he did not even notice." J. Henry

"Once a pair of my pants split in front of the class and I had to wait in the bathroom while a student took them to Home E.C. to get them sewed up." E. Murray

Miss Chaconas teaches her class about geography.



Teacher of the Year

The "Teacher of the Year" this year is Mrs. Kara Chaconas. She is a geography teacher, and she coaches soccer with a flair. Along with soccer, she coaches the J.V. field hockey team with great enthusiasm.

This year Mrs. Chaconas will participate in the German-American Teacher Exchange Program (G.A.T.E.). She and fourteen other teachers were chosen out of a group of fifty teachers in the area who wished to take part in the program.

This August Mrs. Chaconas will travel to the new unified Germany for a total of four weeks. The first week she will spend with her host family while the three remaining weeks will be spent traveling around Germany.

Next year Mrs. Chaconas will have the pleasure of hosting a teacher from Germany as part of the program. Mrs. Chaconas is very excited about the program, and she will certainly have a fun learning experience.

Mr. Beltman and Mr. Jones make a dangerous attemp at cooking.

World's greatest cook?

A most unusual sight it is to see males in a kitchen but that is where we found some of Manchester's faculty.

The men prepared a good meal (or we hope so!) as you can see from their efforts; however, there were some questions asked about all of the fire drills we have had lately but we hope they did not have anything to do with the males culinary skills.

Good luck to the male faculty in their future attempts at cooking!

SPORTS

Members of the various Lancer sporting teams have again put forth a valiant effort. With pain as the price, the Lancers toiled to be all that they could be. Striving to compete against the stiff competition in Chesterfield, the Lancers looked upon each game as a new challenge. From the greens of golf to the dust of the baseball fields, the student body can be proud of each and every Lancer team member. For the stresses of competition are not just physical, but they are also mental. Although the Lancers were striving for the top, they held a mental advantage over their opponents as they kept their cool through intense competition. The girls' varsity field hockey team is a prime example of Lancer superiority. Led by Coach Wallmeyer, the Lady Lancers went undefeated in the regular season and suffered a heartbreaking loss in the regional championship. The members of the girls' indoor track team were district champs for the second year in a row. Roger Cassem had his first season as the varsity head coach. He provided a new outlook and perspective on Manchester's football program. Lancer pride is strongly expressed through the diligence displayed by all aspects of Manchester's sports. Because of their hard work and never ending will to win, Lancer sports participants can hold their heads proud and high.

Baseball

The Manchester Baseball team had a wonderful season. Coach Woody Hall says, "We got off to a really good start and played very sound, fundamental baseball and had a lot of fun." The team had a good mix of pitching, defense and hitting with three outstanding players, Jimmy Roe, Johnny Kendrick, and Paul Jenkins. Kendrick is a three year starter pitcher. A pitcher who can always strike them out. Paul Jenkins a senior, is a four starter and plays the role of catcher. Junior, Jimmy Roe, went 12 for 22 in Manchester's first six games, scoring 13 runs and driving in 14. The team wasn't just made up of these players but overall the team was made up of many outstanding players.

Team Huddle.

HOOPS!

This season the varsity girls' basketball team was headed by seniors Kristina Hall, Sarnetta Andrews, Marcia Peterson, and Heather Valenti. In the district, the girls' team placed second overall with a record of 13-3. The highlight of the season was the girls' win over Petersburg, which handed the team its only loss. On the team this year were two freshmen: Leigh Ann Blake, who was awarded Most Improved Player at the awards banquet, and Connie Urbanski. Sarnetta Andrews, who was the leading vote getter, made first team All District and was on the All Academic team with Tat Tatum. Sarnetta also was awarded the Most Valuable Player at the winter banquet. At the banquet, Marcia Peterson received the coaches award. Mrs. Goff, who was awarded Coach of the Year, attributed the team's success to their knowledge of the game. Their hard work and dedication ended in an eleven game winning streak.

Cross Country

The boys and girls Cross Country team had an outstanding record this season. The boys finished first in the district, and fourth in the region. Our All District team consisted of Wane Harris, Jarrett Steer, Duane Arruti, Brian Vanderbrock, Allen Baugh, and Kyle Thompson. Jarrett Steer and Wayne Harris both made the All-Regional. The Girls' All-District Team consisted of Sara Teets, Heather Costello, Stacy Gordon, Bridgett Westbrook, and Helen Simms. Sara Teets and Heather Costello went on to make the All Regional team, with Heather going to All-State. The Girl's Cross Country team went to place 2nd in the region and first in the district. For the first time in Manchester history, both the boys and girls cross country teams went to compete in the State Cross Country meet. Coach Sours and Coach Bowen really added to the success of both teams. Wayne Harris felt "We would not have gotten there," he stated, "without the strong support and coaching ability of Coach Sours." He also added that "he is the best coach, to me, in the state." There will be strong support of Manchester High School next year for this outstanding winning team.

Golf

This season the Manchester Golf team had a three-eleven district record. This year the seniors on the team were Paul Hrip and Chad Labott. Even-though they finished sixth in the district an excellent effort was shown by all members of the team. Their teamwork and sportsmanship will take them far in years to come.

Her opponents look amused, while Claire McCord attempts to hit the ball. She and her teammates on the junior varsity team worked hard and made the year fun.

Go for the Goal

The Varsity field hockey team was full of confidence this year which led the team to have an excellent season. Full of experience, due to the fact that some of the players were on the team for three years, the team excelled to the regional tournament. The team is proud of many players who exceeded their requirements. Goalie Stephanie Goode can be commended for having no goals scored on the team. Veterans Traci Brink, Bridget Schaefer, and Nikki Mashack pulled the team to victory after victory once again. Shannon Nelms did a good job offensively as well. All in all, the team had a wonderful record and deserves a pat on the back.

The Junior Varsity field hockey team struggled through a difficult season, but they played hard and hope to have a better season next year. Team member Shannon Hutchison says that, "Even though we didn't score, we put a lot of effort into it." Claire McCord played an excellent season, and she received the Coach's Award. The Hustler's Award was given to Jennifer Krysztofik. The team was lead by Coach Chaconas. Both teams led eventful and fun seasons, and the players are getting ready for next year.

Attack!

This year Manchester improved its past record with hard work and the arrival of the new head coach, Roger Cassem. He believes "Coaching is coaching." This is the coach's first head coaching job. He would like to see football become the dominant sport in Manchester High School. This year's captains were Matt Robertson and Justin Lowe. Outstanding players this year included Steve Janucik and Johnny Kendrick. Newcomers Ashley Byrd, Eric Nunnelly, and Matt Smith also did an excellent job this season. The team had third highest number of completions in the region. The game against Thomas Dale, the defending Central Division champions, was the highlight of the season. The team accomplished the fundamentals and was always competitive. The season instilled self-discipline and some appreciation of hard work and their benefits.

Girls Soccer

What a season! The girls varsity soccer team entered the 1991 season with victory after victory. Although competition was fierce, the team, as a whole worked together in achieving their goal. Cindy Zier adds that, "I believe our successful season has come from teamwork and maintaining a sense of humor." Some new players entered the team this year after a number of accomplished Seniors left. Yet remarkably the girls soccer team overcame the losses. Without the excellent coaching skills of Kara Chaconas, the girls unity and effort to win would not have been present. The season has been great for the Varsity Girls' Team this year and they're looking onward to next year as well. As they say in soccer slang, "Thank you! Thank you! Yep! Yep!"

The JV Girls' Soccer team also overcame the burden of having over half of the team being newcomers. Yet with strength and effort the year has been an accomplishment for the players. Next year some of the players will hopefully be moving on to Varsity where they can use their effort to the fullest.

Softball

This season the Girls' Softball Team had an outstanding season. They finished in the top four and went to the district tournament. The highlight of the season was beating the number one team, Thomas Dale. The team had many seniors who helped the team get to where it was. Kristina Hall, Heather Valenti, Marcia Peterson, Lori Baugh, and Allison Zehner will be missed next year. Junior pitcher, Michelle Call will be back to lead the season. The team worked hard and deserves congratulations. The J.V. team had a good year. We are looking forward to next year!

The Manchester Boys' Tennis Team featured many new faces this season. The team had a few players back from last year and five who were freshmen. The team says the season was disappointing but believes it was due to lack of experience. In singles the team was led by David Yu, Brett Christianson, Anthony Tedesco, Tom Norman, Brian Smith, and John Casto. In doubles the team was led by Tom Norman and Brian VandenBroek, Brett Christianson, E.C. Holloway, David Yu and Mitch Early. This competitive team is looking forward to next year. The Girls' Tennis Team had another successful year. The team had many experienced upperclassmen from last year. The team also had the addition of three freshmen who will hopefully bring the team to victory in years to come. The team placed second in the district and their overall record, 8-4, was close to last season's 8-3. Star players Jackie Campbell, and Hillary Harkins made All-District. Congratulations and good luck next year.

Track

The Manchester Track Team managed to have the best season ever. The boys' team finished the regular season with a record of 8-1, losing early in the season to Meadowbrook. The girls' team captured the regular season district title once again. The team had its ups and downs but as Earl Perkins says, "The season was a complete turnaround from last year and I am proud to be on one of the top track programs in the state." But what was the real reason that the team was successful this year. High jumper, Douglas Johnson says, it was due to "team effort of coaches and athletes." Let's hope the team can do just as well next year.

Cheering

This year's cheering squads were "highly dedicated" said Barbara Wiser, one of the cheering sponsors. Cheering is difficult because it runs all year from August to March. Cheerleaders have many responsibilities. They are responsible for all football and basketball games, pep rallies, posters, and any type of team appreciation. Most of the squad this year have many years experience in cheering. They know what it takes.

The indoor track team has had an excellent season. The girls were regional champions and were seventh in the state. The girls came in third place in the state in the 4X200 relay team. Nicole Kimbrough, Miranda Brown, Teana Branch, and Xaviera Pace were a few of the members of the winning girls' team. The boys also had an excellent season. The boys came in 15th in the regionals. Jason Elam was one of the many outstanding runners. Some seniors have been important throughout the season: Bridget Westbrook, Devon Reed, and Jarett Steer. The team made an outstanding effort in the several invitationals and district tournaments. The indoor track members deserve congratulations!

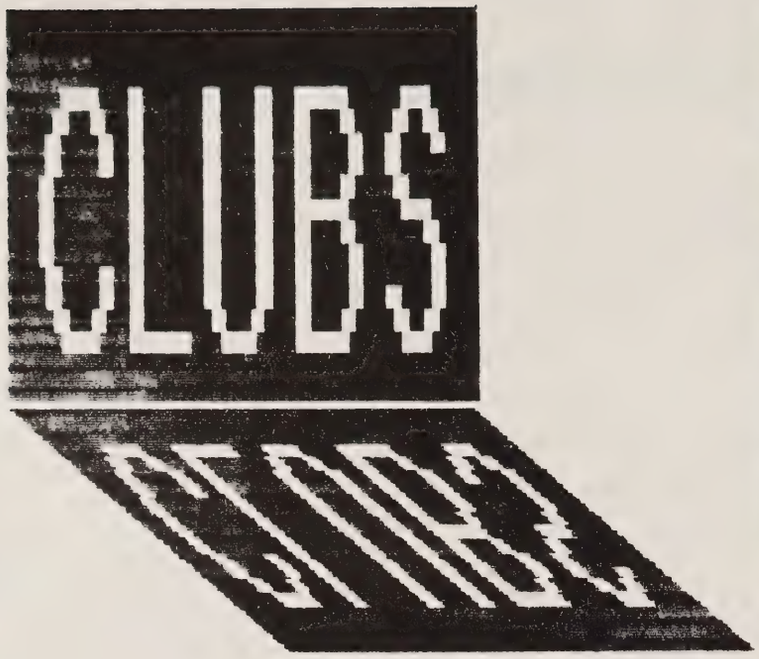
Marrell Elam prepares to pin his rival.

Hang in there!

Wrestling

The Manchester wrestling team had a pin-me down season. With a challenging record Marrell Elam, Charlie Beam, Shane Powers, Brent Herndon, Herman Wilson, and Tommy Taylor moved on to Regionals. Marrell returned with a third place medal. Most of the wrestlers were veterans of the varsity team with the exception of a few newcomers. The junior varsity players had an outstanding District record of 4-1. Coach Munroe had an enjoyable season this year working with both teams and looks forward to working with the two teams next year. Hopefully, both teams will play as enthusiastically as they did this year.



Clubs

Manchester has clubs that explore almost any interests. They are the backbone of the school and provide its spirit. For the student, the clubs make them more well-rounded and they enhance their skills and talents.

Manchester's clubs help the school run smoothly and help the community. The SCA sponsored an Adopt-A-Family project which provided food and supplies for families in the Richmond area. S.A.D.D. speaks out against drinking and driving. NHS recognizes the outstanding upperclassmen as well as outstanding foreign language students. P.E.A.C.E. supports a clean environment by holding recycling drives for glass and aluminum.

Students join clubs to expand on their interests. They learn new skills as well as learn about themselves. Students meet new people who share their interests, whether they are science, history, or art.

Kids can write for the school by joining the newspaper or the yearbook. They help govern the school through the SCA. FBLA, FHA, VICA, and DECA explore careers to help students in the future.

Clubs are fun and are an important part of Manchester.

School Club

Some of the members of the SCA are president Lileth Brown, historian Beth Lindsey, secretary Allyson Zehner, treasurer Brian Whitley, deputies Micah Dalton and Brett Christiansen and many others. The SCA is run as a democracy in which they okay clubs and activities.

The SCA keeps the school spirit up by sponsoring the fifth period contest. They were in charge of the Pep Rally in which we dressed in the school colors. They also are in charge of the Data-A-Match and the Homecoming dance. The SCA is also in charge of the PTSA dances.

The SCA lends a helping hand where needed. When the workmen were working on the school, they tore up the senior courtyard, the SCA is planting flowers and fixing it up. The classes also adopt a section of the school grounds to care for. The SCA sponsors a family at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The SCA participates in almost all of the activities in and around the school.

Brush 'n' Canvas

Brush 'n' Canvas, commonly known as the Art Club, does many fundraisers throughout the year. They sell posters, Christmas package tags, and carnations. All the profits from these sales go to art scholarships.

The Art Club has been around for only three years. It consists of Julie Millirons, the president, Dorrie Turner, the secretary, Jennifer Kuhns, the treasurer and Wendy Jonas, the historian, along with about twenty other members.

During some meetings they have guest speakers, such as an interior designer, or they might work on an interesting project, like making Ukranian eggs. They also take day trips to the Virginia Museum and Maymont Park with their sketch books.

At Christmas time they collect toys, clothes and books for needy families. They also collect food at Thanksgiving.

During the meetings the club studies local history throughout the time periods. The ten person club takes field trips to battlefields and museums. They will make an extra trip to see special exhibits.

The theme history catches on quickly, even the class of 93' wants to use it.

Every year the History Club sponsors the fifties-sixties dance and sells refreshments. The club also sponsors an annual banquet in which they focus around a specific time period or culture. This year it was centered around the Italian culture. At Christmas they adopt a family. The History Club has an interesting and fun time.

Toy Dickens expresses her views on recycling aluminum cans.

The P.E.A.C.E. club conserved energy and gas by not using a truck in Homecoming parade.

This is the first year that the ecology club, which is better known as P.E.A.C.E. (Please Encourage A Clean Environment) has been in existence here at Manchester. Although it is new, it has participated in many activities this year, all having something to do with helping the environment in some way. The club entered a float in the Homecoming parade and won first place due to its originality. Instead of using a vehicle in the parade, the participants walked in order to conserve energy. In January members of the club went to the General Assembly to talk to delegates about passing a bill on plastic recycling. In preparation for this endeavor, P.E.A.C.E. collected milk jug caps to represent to the delegates how much plastic is being used and is never recycled. The club was also active during Earth Week. They sold pine tree saplings during lunches. Students who purchased the tiny plants had the opportunity to plant their saplings in front of the school. Other activities were can-man dress up day and newspaper-man dress up day in which the most creative ideas were awarded prizes. The person who thought of the best recycling idea was also awarded a prize. The officers in the club are president, Melody Nelson; vice president, Michele Call; and secretary, Heather Ludike. The sponsor is Mrs. Reveles.

The Manchester Science Club, which is led by Mrs. Whitlow, the sponsor; Duane Arruti, president; Amy Marsh, vice president; Wayne Harris, secretary; Jarrett Steer, treasurer; and historian, Denise Vu. The club has ventured to such scientific places as the Washington Zoo, the Baltimore Aquarium, and to Lurray Caverns and Endless Caverns. The Science Club also sponsored the Science Career Day at school.

S.A.D.D. has again this year has upheld its philosophy of promoting highway safety. The club again this year sponsored S.A.D.D. week before prom in which they represented all the people who die in alcohol related accidents by having someone "die" every five minutes. This was shown

The club's sponsor is Mrs. Reinhardt. The president is April Dunkam, the vice president is Leanna McCoy, the reporter/historian is AnnaBeth Caulder, Andrew Webber is the treasurer and the secretary is Anne Chatos.

F.H.A. and D.E.C.A.

The Future Homemakers of America participate in many activities throughout the year. During the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons F.H.A. adopted a family. In association with the American Health Association they sponsored the "Save A Sweetheart" to prevent smoking. F.H.A. held brunches and luncheons for the administration and cafeteria workers.

The Distributive Education Club of America sponsored the clothes drive over the holidays which was greatly appreciated. DECA arranged the senior versus faculty basketball game.

F.B.L.A. and V.I.C.A.

The Future Business Leaders of America sponsored a family through the Adopt-A-Family program. They also did the Type-A-Thon for a fundraiser.

The Vocational Industrial Club of America also had a full year. A few of the activities they did this year were participating in industrial related field trips and conferences. VICA is making a difference in themselves and in the community around them.

French Club, Spanish Club, and Latin Club

The French Club had a productive year participating in French academic trivia and adopt-a-family and selling French lolly pops as a major fund-raiser. President John Bell led the French Club through an exciting year of experiences with French culture. At the end of the year, a banquet was held to elect new officers and reflect the past year.

The Spanish Club learned a great deal about Spain and other Spanish speaking countries of the world. The members attended a cook-out at which new officers were elected. "It's a lot of fun working together!", says Eisha McDowell. The Spanish club looks forward to more culture and good times in the years to come.

The Latin Club has kept themselves busy this year by participating in many events. Manchester students gave outstanding performances during the State Latin Convention and received many awards. The club has activities planned for each month including trips to museums, dinners and seminars. A toga party is held at the end of each year where families of members come to experience the culture and tradition or Manchester Romans.

The Spanish Club listens quietly as Mrs. Hoy explains about spanish culture.

National Honor Societies

The National Honors Society again this year performed their annual "tapping in" of new members. The ceremony is one in which all who participated will remember always. The people who are initiated support the organization which promotes leadership, creates enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulates a desire to render service, and develops character in Manchester students. The society participates in many activities geered towards bettering the community. They are active with the S.C.A. candy sale and as well they maintain the Honor Roll board outside of the office.

The officers (president, Brian Vandenbroek; tresaurer, Chris Colvin; vicepresident, Rhonda Morgan; secretatry, Blair Woosley) help to uphold the high standards of the National Honors Society. The qualifications needed to be a member are a minimum cumulative scholastic average of 3.6. The student must also be in at least two activities associated with school.

The National French Honors Society honors those students who have excelled in the language. A student must be in at least the second semester of french II with all A's in the class.

The National Spanish Honors Society recognizes students with outstanding achievements in the language. To be inducted into the organization, a student must have an A average after five or more semesters of taking the class.

M.H.S. Bands

The Manchester bands had a good year this year. The combined concert/symphonic bands worked extra hard for Festival due to the difference of difficulty in the music. They went from grade five difficulty to grade six difficulty and got an overall excellent rating of two.

The bands of Manchester had a large number of members to try out and make All-District and All-County Bands. Almost everyone from Manchester who tried out made it. Out of the people who qualified to try out for All-State Band, one person made it, Dong Han, playing clarinet. It is a great honor to make it, but it is also an honor just to be able to tryout.

Manchester has always had an excellent Jazz Band, and this year is no exception. The Jazz Band held Cabaret, its annual diner dance in the school cafeteria which was transformed. A cozy atmosphere was set by the music that the Jazz Band played. As you can see the Manchester bands had a great year.

Go faster Mr. Barton!

Marching Band

This year the marching band had over one hundred people on the field, which is the largest membership in the last three years. The band moved up from the double A division to the triple A division, which is a difficult transition. The difference between the two divisions is great and not a lot of first-year triple A bands do very well. "The marching lancers are good enough to make the other bands sweat," says Mr. Barton, the director. The last competition that the band participated in was in Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina. They did very well and came within one point of first place.

Amanda Maerz thinks the field trips were great and Crissie Moore thinks band camp is the absolute best, and all agreed.

The officers are Dong-Kil Han, the president, Matt Aycock the vice president, Brian Smith the secretary, Vanessa Hampton the treasurer, who says "Sweat Pickles are great and so is marching band."

"The band is an experience I will never forget," says graduating senior Ann Chatos. The marching band is an experience for all who are involved, whether or not it is a positive experience or a negative experience. The band members will remember all the new friends they have made, all the great trips they have taken and the triumphs and discouragments of participating in Manchester Band.

Capital Swing, Girls' Show Choir and Madrigals

The Manchester choruses again this year amazed parents, teachers, and fellow students with their outstanding talents and capabilities.

Capital Swing this year attended the James Madison University Show Choir Invitational and also amazed the judges. The group won first place against their stiff competition. They will return next year and perform in exhibition. Capital Swing also hosted an Invitational that took place at Manchester. The event took place on Saturday March, 23 and required much time and preparation on the part of the students.

The Madrigal Singers again this year put on their annual Madrigal Dinner. Every December the group dresses in early European attire and sings authentic Christmas carols while at a formal dinner. The Madrigals also attended the James Madison University Invitational and was awarded first place.

Marrell Elam and Tiffany Jefferson sing "Bridge Over Troubled Water."

Capital Swing's "got the power to be" anything that they want to be.

Capital Swing gets everyone in the mood for Christmas when they sing carols.

Lance Singers, Mixed Chorus and Girls' Chorus

The Mixed Chorus kept busy this school year practicing their music and devising dance steps to accompany the music. The Mixed Chorus is mostly composed of ninth grade students or students in their first year of chorus at Manchester. This year their spring show included the songs "Another Opening, Another Song", "Muddy Water" and the guys sang "Pretty Woman."

The Lance Singers performed these songs also with the Mixed Chorus. Lance singers can be in any grade and the group can be devised of both girls and guys; however, this year it was all girls.

There is a chorus that is strictly for girls here at Manchester, the girls' chorus. This choir is open to any girl in any grade.

Girl's Ensemble combines their voices to create harmony.

Girl's Show Choir "eases on down the road."

Mixed Chorus performs at the winter concert.

Lancer Dancers

This year another great group was started at Manchester. This one is for those students who love to dance. It was organized by their sponsor, Mrs. Bass. She led the auditions and got their costumes. The group is a great bunch of people with enthusiasm, vigor, style, and a wonderful ability to dance.

The Lancer Dancers performed during all home football and basketball games, getting the crowd cheering during half-time. Lisa Ligon was the captain during the Football season, followed by Sandy Jimerson as captain during Basketball season.

Their managers were April Dunkum and Diana Shiflett. April says that "working with the group was an experience I will never forget and what an experience it was! I'll always remember the laughs, and I want to say, 'Thanks, I love you.' to them all." This dynamic group will be around for awhile!

Drama Club

The Drama club started the year with their annual initiation. The officers assigned costumes to members — Angela Leslie became Margaret Thatcher, Jeff Capps was Andrew Dice Clay, Eric Gregory became The Queen of Hearts, and Jason Lippard was Alice in Wonderland.

In the fall, the Drama club presented Black Comedy. It showed some of the strange things that can happen when the lights go out. In the spring, the club put on the play, The Wonderful Adventures of Don Quixote. It starred Andrew Webber and Scott Mueller. Don Quixote travles through Spain on an adventure he invents in his mind.

The Drama club has monthly meetings. Mr. Goss is the sponsor, as well as the director of the plays, The club fund raises by selling candy. They mark the end of the year with a banquet. Results of the superlatives, such as Best Legs and Joined at the Hip, are announced. All in all the Drama club is a whole lot of fun.

Drama club officers Brian Roberts, Jennifer Treibly, Jennifer Kuhns, Dave Andrel, and Brad Bryant dress up for initiation.

Ted Ford, Marnie Wurtsbaugh, and Dorian Kendrall all appeared in the crazy fall play, Black Comedy.

Memoir Staff

The 1991 Memoir began in the summer when co-editors-in-chief Barbara Kumpf and Shon Jones, and advisor Mrs. Wilbourne attended the Herff- Jones yearbook. It lasted for Five Days in Gettysburg, PA. Since all three were beginners, the camp proved very useful.

Also in the early summer, Alison Chiu, financial manager, began the year's fund raising. The yearbook sold ads to local businesses. The staff also ran a fall candy sale. The Biggest yearbook fundraiser was selling the books. The staff made announcements and posters, and talked to classes. After three sales, they almost reached the desired sale amount.

With the work of Dave Jennings of Delmar Studios, our professional photographer, and head photographer, Nyle Smith and his staff, the Memoir is well stocked with great shots. They worked hard all year to put Manchester on film.

The hardworking staff is the backbone of the Memoir. Since the staff's first deadline, their dedication and hard work has paid off. Special recognition goes to: Lori Bradham and Janet Marshon Lancer Life; Jackie Dewell and Laura Wimmer on Sports; Susannah Hoy and Amy Marsh on Academics, Allison Marsh on Freshmen; Wendy Jonas and Jenny May on Sophomore; Jade Waddell and Jen Creger on Junior; Jenny Trout and Jennie Parker on Senior; Jennifer Perry and Deanna Hite on Faculty; Diane Shiflett as Grafics Editor; Kalpana Shenoy as copy editor; Nyle Smith as Head Photographer; Allison Chiu as Financial Manager and Community Section; Shon Jones and Barbar Kumpf as Editors-in-Chief; and last but not least, Mrs. Wilbourne as advisor. Thank you for a great year.

Mrs. Wilbourne, yearbook advisor, made sure that everything ran as smoothly as possible this year.

COMMUNITY

The local community has again demonstrated strong support for Manchester High School. Parents and friends have given their time and emptied their pockets to support every school effort. These contributions include supporting fundraisers such as candy and fruit sales and attending sporting events and school plays. Without the support of the community, these events would have been totally unsucceessful. The community also helped to enhance this year's Memoir as families and companies showed their support through business and patron ads. Area businesses also provided jobs as Manchester students, in need of extra cash, sought employment. Yet the benevolent actions of the community were overshadowed this year as our country was hurled into the chaos of war. Saddam Hussein's vicious rape of Kuwait cost the community its families, friends, and loved ones. Yet this ordeal did not discourage Manchester's patrons as the community maintained its support of our school. It is this continual support which has encouraged the hearts of Manchester's students. So as you spend your well-earned money in our community, remember the businesses that remembered us.

The War in the Gulf touched many, and the victory made everyone proud to be Americans.

Construction was a common sight at Manchester this year; air conditioning is being installed.

Workers replace the ceiling tiles which were long gone from Manchester.

Work for this year's Memoir began early this summer when Financial Manger Alison Chiu and Editors-in-Chief Barbara Kumpf and Jershon Jones started work on the staff's ad campaign. Barbara, Shon, and advisor Tracey Wilbourne attended Herff Jones' yearbook camp in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania for four days. This was all three's first year of working on the yearbook, so that week was very, very important.

The 1991 Memoir is Volume 53 of Manchester High School in Richmond, Virginia. It was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. This edition ran 575 copies of 192 pages. It was printed on Bordeaux paper. The cover design is computer generated by the Editors-in-Chief with adaptions by Herff Jones' art department. The cover and spine were silk-screened on Leather Tex Smoky Blue with applied color of Brilliant Orange #10. Name stamped and padded covers used HJ Gold. The end sheets are Natural. The majority of the type is Times Roman. The type size of copy is 12 point, captains are 6 and 8 point, and headlines are varied sizes. 30% grey screens were also used.

The co-Editors-in-Chief have many people to thank: Mrs. Wilbourne, sponsor, advisor, and friend; Mr. Smith, Herff Jones Representative; Mr. Jennings, Max Ward photographer; Mr. Jones, Principal; the Library Staff; Mrs. Kumpf, For driving everyone home; and the Memoir patrons.

We also have to thank the staff for a great year and a great book. The section editors are: Alison Chiu, financial manager; Lori Bradham and Janet Marsh, Lancer Life; Susannah Hoy and Amy Marsh, Academic; Jenny Parker and Jennie Trout, Seniors; Jade Waddell and Jennifer Creger, Juniors; Wendy Jonas and Jenny May, Sophomores; Allison Marsh, Freshmen; Jackie Dewell and Laura Wimmer, Sports; Kate Henson and Erica Miller, Clubs; Jennifer Perry and Deanna Hite, Faculty; Nyle Smith, Head Photographer.

"Dreams"
Hold fast to dreams
For if dreams die
Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams
For when dreams go
Life is a barren field
Frozen with snow.
